Hector: Cat About Town

Notorious Gossip

The employer had lost a pound, and an office boy brought it back to him.

"You're an honest lad," said the employer, "but the pound I lost was a note and not silver."

"Yes, I know, sir," replied the boy. "But the last time I found a pound note the gentleman didn't have any change."

He was an absolutely hopeless sinner, and one day, when he was playing even worse than usual, he muttered to his caddy: "I took up this game to practise self-control."

"You ought to have gone in for caddying, sir," said the boy, with a very deep sigh.

The housemaid had just met a new young man, and was extolling his charms to her mistress. Having described his wavy hair, his wonderful blue eyes, etc., she concluded with: "And such lovely teeth he's got, mum—good as false, they are!"

Two bitter enemies met in the street.

"I'm so sorry, my dear," said the first lady, "I quite forgot you party the other evening."

"Oh, weren't you there?" asked the other very sweetly.

SUMMER COATS

The woman who travels a good deal will be glad to meet the new coats which, fitted to the figure as far as the waist line and flared below, have very roomy armholes into which are set sleeves with wide tops, thus enabling the wraps to be worn with comfort over tailor-made suits as well as with dresses and coat-frocks. Cruise wraps, too, are obliging, many of them being cut on Magyar lines, so that the most flimsy frocks remain fresh and uncrushed beneath them.

LIGHT OVER DARK

The slender skirt and the semi-fitted or loose coat suggest good opportunities for bright colour alliances, which may be carried out with a dark dress and a light wrap, or vice versa. Navy blue coats, for example, look as well over grey or red frocks as they do over lighter blue, the new dull pink shade, burnt orange or lemon. The maize and banana tones also are good with navy, and equally smart with golden brown and rusty red.

White and off-white coats, knowing criss-cross lines or large checks in dark colours, are cut in the short swagger style. They are rather square about the shoulders, supplied with ample pockets, and are excellent for sports or cruising, the materials mostly being rough or "tuffed."

TROUSER STRIPES FOR SKIRTS

LATEST TRENDS IN TAILORING

Youth and personality are featured in the mid-season Marcel Rochas suits, which are strictly tailored but always slightly different from the standard "classic" style. It is a tailored line brought up to date with ideas that make suits look "dandy" for the bright young people of our generation.

Masculine details are usual and bring finish with a feminine character. These special summer season clothes launch a change from early spring, with stock-mufflers of contrasting colours, to those made in inch or two-inch wide trouser stripes for slender line skirts. Stripes match jackets.

One idea shows jacket and trouser stripes of black poulté de sole on mat black broad-cloth and the new Gibus-crush hat in silken fabric. This hat is attractive and less liable to travesty than the bowler. Contrasts line down on a navy blue skirt to match a blouse of turquoise blue, but the jacket, is of dark orchid mauve linen. There are many other schemes to choose from, as well as velveteen and broadcloth. Here an all-black short box bolero jacket and skirt accompany a velveteen fitted tuck-in blouse for a fabric change.

Vaguely spreading tunic depths are youthful in black line checked white organza that matches a blouse with a plain black skirt. These tunics figure also in floral printed organza and black, showing a closely packed pin stripe distribution of glistening black cellophane. Dark skirts follow for these afternoon styles, but trouser stripes are eliminated.

SCARLET FAVOURED

This elimination applies again to three- and two-piece slack 'coatee' styles. Coatees are different from the general run. One in coarse brown linen is given a flat sunray plisse movement at under-arm seams. A new type of flat sunray plisse jacket is repeated on a mastic and brown pin striped in above the plain brown linen skirt.

A scarlet cloth 'coatee' is interesting with new surface movement, such as pocket-flaps surrounded by buttons set high up at either side beneath the collarless neckline. It completes a navy blue frock, with buckle motifs, composing a scarlet kept between two fringed equalities on a navy blue kid belt. This competes with miniature steel swords showing short scarlet tassels at their hilt. Scarlet appears in another mood when a new type of dinner-jacket style is brought to the fore. The scarlet mess-jacket of broad-cloth is worn with a slender white gulpure lace gown tailored with trouser stripes of scarlet broadcloth. These trouser stripes follow in plain lines from long sleeves, the short jacket showing a cut-out design applique from the chalk-white lace.

WHEN YOU BUY A DRESS

Think of the neck line. If you have a full round face, choose a square neck, cut rather low in front.

If your features are thin and angular, try a round neck to impart a becoming softness.

For a short thick neck, the dress should be cut low in the front and wide enough to give a sweeping slender line to the neck.

Sleeve seams for too broad shoulders should be high, coming inside the shoulder edge. This makes them look narrower. But if your shoulders are narrow and sloping, the seams should extend to the very outside shoulder edge, or a fraction beyond. The addition of a wide collar, or shoulder caps, or epaulettes will also contribute a pleasing breadth.

If your hips are prominent, have your frock loose fitting at the waist, with no contrasting belt. And experiment with a skirt that hangs straight from hips to hem, rather than one cut on the cross. This latter has a way of clinging to the hips and curving in underneath them, so that their importance is emphasised.

BEACH 'JEWELLERY'

Mah-jong dice slung on coloured cord make intriguing necklaces to wear with sun-bathing kit.

Another barbaric-looking necklace was made of differently coloured plaques on twisted cord threaded on to a double cord of string colour.

Also to be seen are flying-fish brooches, travellers' charms and brooches in the form of sailors swinging over a gally painted anchor, or bronzed diving girls in white swim suits.

Summer Fabrics

Many new cotton and linen materials can be worn from morning until midnight in town and in the country. Heavy crease-resisting linens and cottons tailor well for suits, and may be in white, grey, or pastel colours, or in dark and light colour contrast. A buttercup-yellow suit is worn over a blouse of brown organdie; a pale pastel-blue suit has a jumper of knitted cotton in coral-red. With a navy skirt is worn a white jacket, trimmed with navy lapels.

There is now a good black linen for tailored suits to be worn with frilly organdie blouse and white accessories. A simple tailored dress of heavy black linen has wide box pleats falling from the breast pockets to the hem and is fastened with gold buttons. The wide linen belt having a narrow appliqué of gold kid. There are two-piece suits and tailored dresses of heavy cotton net over taffetas slips. They may be had in plain colours such as navy and black and in checked or spotted designs in the same colours. They are uncrushable. Linens and cottons for sports wear have rough surfaces and are woven in irregular check or stripe designs. Some have a stripe or overcheck in colour.

blues and greens and nasturtium shades of reds and yellows make effective colour contrasts. Natural, off-white shades, and greys are also good; colour is given by the accessories.

Linen and piqué, both plain and in a variety of fancy textures in the heavier weights, make useful finger-tip swaggers, coats, or fitting overcoats. They look well over plain black dresses worn with black accessories. Printed lines and piqués, in large two-tone designs are ideal materials for the little extra coat or jacket. An afternoon dress has a black linen skirt and a fitted tunic with slightly squared shoulders, of white piqué with a large black design. A white linen-jacket, hand embroidered in bright woollen flowers, makes an attractive cocktail suit worn with a skirt and scarf of black linen. Piqué stamped with a damask design is used in navy or black for a tailored evening gown worn with a short jacket in white piqué woven with the same design.

PRINTED FLORAL COTTONS

Printed floral cottons, plain piqués in pastel colourings, and cotton organdies in large floral designs, make summer evening gowns, often accompanied by small

LINES FOR SPORTS

Linens for sports wear are often highly coloured. New shades are a bright green, rust, Venetian-red, and Dubonnet. These make effective shorts and "culottes" for active sports wear. Sweaters and blouses to be worn with them are in hand-knitted linens and cottons. Parrot jackets of matching or contrasting fabric. Broderie anglaise, fine string laces, and printed nets are used for the more nifty type of evening dresses. Tailored shirts and blouses for out of doors are in linens in bright colours, in coarse cotton nets. Fine handkerchief linen and organdie make

EAR-PIERCING CRAZE

More women are having their ears pierced. Once it was a fashion for middle age and later in life. Now debutantes and young married hostesses, are adopting it, according to Mr. C. R. Wilkinson, the specialist, writes a correspondent. He is piercing the ears of 100 women every month.

"Women want to wear large pearl earrings," he told me. "They are afraid of losing them if they are screwed on. The new clip-on variety are supposed to do away with piercing. They encase the lobe of the ear in metal, but even they are not secure and are having to be fitted with pins for pierced ears."

WEDDING JEWELLERY

The ear-piercing craze is sweeping Mayfair. The Duchess of Kent recently had her small, shapely ears pierced to enable her to wear the magnificent jewelled earrings given her by King George and Queen Mary.

Here is a curious point about this new practice. Women often adopt it on the eve of some great event in their lives.

The Duchess of Gloucester had her ears pierced for her wedding. The new Vicereine, Lady Linlithgow, had her ears pierced while the car was waiting outside her house to take her and Lord Linlithgow to the boat train for India.

Pierced ears are indispensable to the woman taking an official part in State functions at which she has to wear jewels. The Queen had hers pierced when she was a little girl. They were done by her lady's maid.

frilly blouses with intricate decoration of hand tucking and embroidery. There are also dotted muslins, broderie anglaise, and organdies printed in small floral and conventional designs.

Bright, rough cottons make gloves, bells, and sandal shoes. There are practical hats of linen and jaunty little caps of only coloured bandanna handkerchiefs.

BANDEAU CRAZE

Jewelled and embroidered bandeaux are the latest phase of the fashion for evening head-dresses.

Curls were banished from Schiaparelli's dress show recently. The hair must be smoothly waved to carry off these new bandeaux, which are swathed in turban fashion round the head, revealing a straight line of hair across the forehead.

Scarcely an evening dress appeared without its matching bandeau. Turquoise blue and gold embroidery on a white satin bandeau was repeated in similar embroidery round the neck of a white satin gown.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

And The League

London, May 27.

The Archbishop of Canterbury presiding at the opening of the convocation of Canterbury to-day referred to the international situation and the proposals for the reform of the League of Nations.
He said if the League was to fulfil its high purpose they could not acquiesce in its being reduced to a position of mere council of conciliation. The spirit of aggressive nationalism was too strong and the fear and suspicion it aroused too rife. "We cannot abandon or whittle down what the League stands for," declared the Primate.
The actual circumstances of time seem to have discredited it but the ideal remains and will remain for the Christian world. The ultimate basis of justice and peace will be a moral and spiritual one of a reconstructed League of Nations.

REPORTED

London, May 27.

An official communique issued in Jerusalem denies any British soldier has been killed in the course of disturbances. A denial is also given to the report in circulation to the effect that a police patrol had been surrounded by a mob at Gaza, and severely beaten.
The communique records sporadic outbreaks of lawlessness in the preceding 24 hours, but the only casualty had been the accidental killing of an Arab watchman by an Arab constable in the village of Lydda.

The administration of Palestine

League Mandates commission's half yearly session which opened at Geneva to-day. Press message says the commission has re-elected

SMUGGLING IN NORTH CHINAQUESTIONS ASKED IN COMMONS

London, May 27.

Mr. Anthony Eden answered a number of questions in the House of Commons on smuggling in Northern China. The Foreign Secretary referring to the various suggestions for improving the position put forward in the questions said he thought the best means of checking smuggling would be the restoration to the Chinese preventive agencies of normal means of exercising their authority. So far as he was aware no other Government apart from the Chinese,
British and United States Governments had made representations on this subject at Tokyo, but the British Ambassador had kept in close touch with representatives of other interested powers. Mr. Eden added the attention of the Japanese Government had been called to the detriment caused to the legitimate Japanese interests in general by the incidence of the wholesale smuggling in North China.

EMPEROR'S
UNOFFICIAL VISIT

London, May 27.

Questioned in Commons regarding the arrangements for the reception of Emperor of Ethiopia who is on his way to the United Kingdom the Foreign Secretary replied the Emperor was coming at his own request incognito and no question of ceremonial reception therefore arose.

PECULIAR FAMILY TRAITS

OBJECTS OF NEW BUREAU OF HEREDITY

London, May 11.

Peculiar family traits which may have been handed down from one generation to another are being sought by the newly formed Bureau of Human Heredity.

The Bureau, which has its headquarters in Gower Street, London, W.C., aims at building up a storehouse of information about inherited characteristics, no matter how strange or weird they may be. Mrs. C. B. S. Hodson, honorary general secretary of the Bureau, discussing its aims and objects with a reporter, said that in farming and stock-breeding a knowledge of heredity had proved so valuable that bureaux had been set up dealing with plant and animal genetics, where information was carefully collected and made available to agriculturists.

"Until now there has not been a similar service for those interested in the question of human heredity," said Mrs. Hodson.

We know that as the result of numerous experiments and research work a mass of information on this subject exists, but it has never been collated and made available for the people needing it. In addition to the facts obtainable from those who have made a close study of heredity and have conducted experiments, we also want any help which the man-in-the-street can give with regard to family characteristics.

Mrs. Hodson said that it was thought that it would take the Bureau about three years to collect all that data.

"We shall then be ready to answer any inquiries we may receive, and any advice we can offer will be given free," she said.

Mrs. Hodson pointed out that three classes of people who urgently need the information the Bureau seeks are the medical profession, educationists, and research workers.

SO RED THE ROSE

Margaret Sullivan, who recently gained the favour of motion picture audiences as the star of "The Good Fairy" and "Only Yesterday" heads the cast of Paramount's screen adaptation of Stark Young's best-selling novel, "So Red The Rose," which is showing at the Star Theatre to-day. In support of Miss Sullivan are Walter Connolly, Janet Beecher, Randolph Scott and Harry Ellerbe.

In this picture, a poignant romance of the South during the War between the States, Miss Sullivan is cast as Vallette, the beautiful daughter of an aristocratic Southern family which, with fortitude and courage faces the ordeals of those brave and terrible days. "So Red The Rose" tells the story of Vallette's (Miss Sullivan's) struggle to keep bright her love for the man of her heart who is determined to ignore the cause in which his family and friends firmly believe.

Randolph Scott is cast as her sweetheart, Duncan, giving young Mr. Scott his first important dramatic role.

Walter Connolly, distinguished actor of the stage and screen, is lovable and appealing as Vallette's kindly, aristocratic father, and Janet Beecher is excellently cast as Vallette's mother. Others who distinguish themselves in small but effective roles are Harry Ellerbe, Elizabeth Patterson, in a strange characterization of an impoverished and sarcastic relative; Dickie Moore, Harry Ellerbe and the coloured actor, Daniel Haynes, one of the stars of "Green Pastures," cast as an old and faithful family retainer.

'AH WILDERNESS' AT THE ORIENTAL

"Ah Wilderness!" Eugene O'Neill's great stage drama, brought to the screen in elaborate form will be the attraction at the Oriental Theatre to-day and tomorrow.

A smashing triumph for both Wallace Beery, who stars as the lovable, Uncle Sid, and Lionel Barrymore, who plays the father role. "Ah Wilderness!" tells the story of a family in an intensely human manner and with characters every person in the audience can recognize.

There is hilarious comedy in it, charming romance of both youth and middle age, and moments of dynamic drama that holds the audience in its spell.

The youthful romance is charmingly carried out by Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker, and Mickey Rooney, Spring Byington, Charles Grapewin, Frank Albertson, Edward Nugent, Bonita Granville and Helen Flint are others who deserve mention for excellent performance.

'BOULDER DAM'

Patricia Ellis sings two song numbers in her role of a night club entertainer in "Boulder Dam" Warner Bros. picture which is coming shortly to the Queen's Theatre.

The songs are "My Long Gone Baby Came Home" and "Toddling Along with You." Both were written by Moe Dixon and Albie Wrubel.

"Boulder Dam" is a dynamic drama of a little dancing girl who redeems a shirker and fugitive from justice through love. Besides Miss Ellis the cast includes Ross Alexander, Lyle Talbot, Henry O'Neill, Eddie Acuff, Egon Brecher and scores of others.

'COLLEEN'

In "Colleen" the Warner Bros. picture which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre, and in which Bobby Connolly staged the production numbers legs will be less important than backs.

Connolly has covered the lower extremities of his dancing girls and has uncovered their backs.

One hundred of the most beautiful backs in the world will be seen in the "You got to Know How to Dance" number. One of them is Ruby Keeler's.

In selecting his dancers, Connolly had three women beauty specialists choose the girls with the most perfect backs from the hundreds of dancers tested. Orry-Kelly then designed white backless gowns for the troupe. The gowns are ankle length and only when the girls kick are their legs seen, and then just for a moment.

"Colleen" is a stirring musical comedy with an all star cast which is headed by Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Jack Oakie, Joan Blondell, Hugh Herbert, Louise Fazenda and Paul Draper.

Draper, the famous interpretative dancer of Broadway, makes his film bow in this picture. He has been the rage of New York and in this picture he does some of his finest lyric dancing.

'CRIME AND PUNISHMENT'

AT THE KING'S AND ALHAMBRA

"Crime and Punishment" a stirring drama vividly portrayed on the screens at the King's and Alhambra theatres by Edward Arnold and Peter Lorre and a capable cast gives us food for thought on the present day crimes.

The story as unfolded on the screens is thus:

Raskolnikov, (Lorre) a student is starving to death in his garret even though he has sold a brilliant article on the criminal mind. Desperate, and feeling that a man with his mentality can commit the perfect crime, he murders and robs a wretched pawnbroker. He thinks everything is planned perfectly; but he has not provided against his gnawing conscience.

The Inspector (Arnold), suspicious, dogs his footsteps and torments him by innuendo, hinting that the net is closing in. When an innocent man is about to be convicted for the crime, Raskolnikov breaks down and confesses.

There is more to it than that, much more; but it loses its potency in the confines of a review. There is Sonya, the miserable young girl, played to a finish by Marian Marsh; Raskolnikov's mother and sister, played by Elisabeth Risdon and Tala Birell respectively. There is Girlo, enacted by Douglass Dumbrille, who wants Antonia, the sister; Dmitri, played by Robert Allen, who also wants her; and Lushin, played by Gene Lockhart, who almost gets her. And there is Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the stage star as The Pawnbroker. All of these performances, no matter how small, contribute materially to the superlative nature of the production.

"Crime and Punishment" will long go down in film history as a classic to be remembered.

TOMMY'S REVUE

Prior to the picture being screened at the King's Theatre, "Tommy's Revue" was presented on the stage by a troupe of beautiful girls in a varied programme of songs and dances. The girls certainly danced with grace and after the Russian Dance was presented, the "Shadow Waltz" was loudly applauded. The culminating item "the Hula-Hula" was well received. The technique of the Hawaiian dance was beautifully captured by the dancers and the applause was well merited.

The house had been newly painted, and the mistress of the house was surveying the result.

"Could you spare time to scrape the paint off the windows?" she asked the workman.

"Certainly, ma'am, if you can lend me a coin," replied the man.

Having nothing smaller than half a crown, the lady lent him that.

Half an hour later the man returned to her a worn and thin shilling.

"But—er—wasn't it half a crown I gave you?" stammered the lady.

"It was," said the man with emphasis, "but it's worn down a bit."

DISHONESTY ALLEGED

THEFTS OF AMMONIA SULPHATE

Tam Fook, 41, store keeper of the Imperial Chemical Industries (China) Ltd., appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday charged with the larceny by servant of 50 bags of sulphate of ammonia.

Lee Hau, 48, an accountant of a shop at No. 1, Shun Chun Street was charged with aiding and abetting.

Mr. A. W. Mackinlay appeared for the complainant firm, Mr. F. E. Nash for the first defendant and Mr. Ford was for the second defendant.

Opening the case, Mr. Mackinlay said that since the last hearing Lee Hau made a statement showing that he had acted in the transaction in good faith and that he had no knowledge that the goods were stolen. Counsel therefore asked that the charge be withdrawn.

The second defendant was accordingly discharged.

FIRST OFFENCE

The defendant, Tam Fook, said Mr. Mackinlay was a godown keeper at the godown at Causeway Bay. He had been in the service for twenty years and this was the first time that he had offended.

On May 2 the complainant firm had a total stock of 5,000 bags of ammonium sulphate in the godown and these bags were being transferred to the Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company on lighters. It was the duty of the defendant to check the bags as they left the godown and to obtain a receipt from the wharf man. These 5,000 bags were transferred and about 2.30 p.m. Mr. Sykes went down to the godown and there saw two lorries leaving the godown loaded with the sulphate. He was told that the lighter could not carry all the bags and these were the remainder. He followed the lorries to No. 1, Shun Chun Street.

The lorry drivers, Mr. Mackinlay went on, would say that they were told to go over to Kowloon and then, to return to Hong Kong to Wing Lok Street. While there they went to have some tea and while they were away the lorries were unloaded.

CRUELTY AND ASSAULT ALLEGED

DOMESTIC TROUBLES AIRED ON COURT

Wong Fong-shing appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday summoned by his wife, Chu Mee-yau for desertion, persistent cruelty and neglect to provide a reasonable maintenance.

Wong Wai and Wong Mak-sing, the parents of the husband were also charged with assault.

Mr. E. S. C. Brooks appeared for the complainant and Mr. Hing Shing Lo for the defendants.

Yesterday the maintenance summons was withdrawn. Mr. Lo said that the husband had no objection to the summons being withdrawn but insisted that the complainant return and live with him.

Outlining the facts of the assault, Mr. Brooks said that on August 13, the wife wished to go to Kowloon to celebrate the birthday of her grandfather. She was then told not to return and she therefore remained there for six months. In April this year, her father brought her down to Hong Kong and tried to effect a reconciliation. In this respect her father and others went to the defendants' house at No. 358, Queen's Road Central and there endeavoured to prevail on the defendant's parents to take her back again.

A quarrel arose over this and after the father and the others had left, the complainant was assaulted by both her parents-in-law. The mother-in-law knocked her down on to some bowls while the father-in-law pounced on her throat to prevent her from crying out for help. The complainant's calls were eventually heard and the Police arrived on the scene and they were all taken to the Station.

Macfadyen charged "with intent to defraud by falsely pretending that an obsolete bank note was valid." A fine of $50 or in default, six weeks' imprisonment was imposed.

Inspector A. H. Elston said that on Tuesday the accused Yeung Hing Ngan boarded a bus and tendered a note for which the conductor gave 40 cent change in Hong Kong currency. An inspector boarded the bus at the next stop, and accused got off and ran away. He was arrested by a constable.

The note in question was a "Ching Kwing Ming" note, and was issued by a former regime. At the station 28 of these notes were found on defendant's possession. The accused had for some time past endeavoured to get rid of these notes at various places, and was constantly warned that they were valueless.

Holden stated in evidence that at 6.30 p.m. he visited an acquaintance's house and left the bicycle in a passageway. He went up stairs and while waiting for the front door to open he glanced over the banisters. Witness said that he saw a shadow in the passageway. He and his friend ran downstairs and found that the machine was missing.

In Peking Road they saw defendant on his machine. They gave chase and defendant who appeared unable to ride, dismounted and ran away. He was arrested by a constable.

T. E. Street gave corroborative evidence, stating that when the accused dismounted, he picked it up and continued the chase on the bicycle.

THE COMMERCIAL JOURNAL

A Boon To Commerce

"The Commercial Journal," the official organ of the Polytechnic School is to hand, being the first issue of its kind launched under the auspices of the school.

The introduction of this journal is indeed a great acquisition in the commercial field and meets a definite need.

Many articles contained therein are well written and makes good reading, and should be of interest to many.

The articles deal mostly with commercial subjects. Many of the subjects written by scholars of the school on various commercial activities of the Colony are very concisely worded. The magazine, we are sure, will prove a boon to the people interested in the commerce of Hong Kong.

WOMAN KILLED BY BUS

Inquest Opened In Kowloon

An accident which occurred on May 9, when an old woman aged 78 years was knocked down and killed by a Kowloon Motor Bus in Shanghai Street, near Market Street, opposite the Old Kowloon Court, was the subject of an inquiry opened yesterday at the Kowloon Magistracy with Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen sitting as Coroner, assisted by the following jurymen: Messrs. Chang Sam Chong (foreman), B. Young and Pang Jim Sang. The enquiry was adjourned till Tuesday next at 3.30 p.m.

Proceedings during the afternoon were adjourned for a short period, while the Coroner and jurymen visited the scene of the accident.

According to evidence submitted by witnesses, the deceased Wong Tung Mu, met her death shortly after 11 o'clock when she was knocked down by bus No. 688 travelling along Shanghai Street, in the direction of Mongkok district. One witness said that he warned the woman that a bus was approaching, but she took no heed. Another said that the bus sounded its horn, and was travelling slowly at the time of the accident.

Dr. G. H. Henry, medical officer at the Kowloon Mortuary said that he conducted a post mortem examination on the body of the deceased the next day, and found that death was due to multiple injuries, shock and haemorrhage. The deceased was of slight build.

Detective Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham said that he arrived on the scene soon after the accident. He exhibited the body from under the front of the bus, life being extinct.

Traffic Sergeant J. Scrim testified to arriving on the scene accompanied by Traffic Sergeant McHardy. Bus No. 688 was standing in the centre of the road at the junction of Shanghai Street and Market Street. A Chinese female was lying near the off front wheel with a scalp wound and an injured left leg. There was a blood stain immediately behind the off front wheel. Subsequent examination and brakes tests conducted in Nathan Road showed that the vehicle involved in the accident was in good mechanical order. There were no skid marks on the scene of the accident, but a traceable wheel mark was left on the road, about 18 feet long.

Four photographs taken shortly after the mishap, and submitted as exhibits, were taken by the Sun Studio, said Sgt. Scrim. He himself saw the views through the camera before the pictures were taken.

LOAN TO HELP SILK INDUSTRY

Banks To Assist By Offer Of $5,000,000

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER FILATURES

Shanghai, May 23.

Mr. S. P. Woo, representing Mr. Tseng Yang-fu, chairman, the Sericulture and Silk Control Committee, Chekiang Provincial Government, concluded a loan agreement with the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications yesterday for the amount of $5,000,000 for the purchase of excess cocoons in Chekiang this season.

It will be recalled that last year, due to extreme bad market conditions for raw silk and the reluctance on the part of the silk filature operators to buy all the cocoon supply from farmers in Chekiang, the Chekiang Government had to buy a portion of the cocoons which were later reeled into silk and sold through the Chekiang Raw Silk Sales Committee of which Mr. S. P. Woo is Chairman. The action was much lauded by the Government as beneficial to the farmers, filatures and the export trade alike.

This spring, due to demand for more disease-free eggs from the farmers the Chekiang Government, through the Control Committee, distributed 1,250,000 egg cards, 450,000 cards more than last spring. Since the raw silk market became much improved towards the later part of last year, the Government expected that the raw silk manufacturers both in Chekiang and Kiangsu and the cocoon merchants will be able to absorb the whole supply, as it was never the intention of the Government to indulge in the buying of cocoons, the reeling and selling of raw silk in competition with the people. Upon the expiration of the registration period, however, the demand from usual sources for cocoons were 180,000 piculs of native cocoons and 184,000 piculs of improved cocoons. The production of improved cocoons is estimated to be 320,000 piculs and consequently, there will be excess cocoons left over to the amount of 156,000 piculs.

Under such circumstances, the Government has no other choice than to buy the part of cocoons which is left over, and hence the completion of the $5,000,000 loan. It is learned that after the cocoons are bought, the Government will charter some up-to-date filatures for the reeling of silk while the selling end will still be entrusted to the Chekiang Raw Silk Sales Committee who will dispose of the silk, some through direct export, and the majority through raw silk exporters in Shanghai.—N.C. FOREIGN POLICEMAN ASSAULTED

Two Maul Traffic Sergeant At Thibet Road Crossing

Shanghai, May 25.

Sergeant H. F. Gill, of the S. M. Police, was assaulted by two Chinese on Saturday evening while he was on traffic duty at the corner of Nanking Road and Thibet Road. Both assailants were arrested with the assistance of British civilians who witnessed the attack.

The policeman, who is attached to Louza Station, was directing traffic at the busy crossing at about 7.20 o'clock, when crowds from two large theatres in the neighbourhood were converging on the intersection. A Chinese attempted to climb over one of the traffic ropes at the corner and was requested to use the proper lane. His reply was a right hook to Sgt. Gill's jaw and he was joined in the assault by another Chinese who had been watching the episode. The second Chinese climbed over the rope in order to strike the policeman.

Two foreigners, both British, quickly came to the sergeant's assistance and the two Chinese were arrested. On the way to the police station one of the prisoners struck Sgt. Gill again and he repeated the assault in the station compound. The two foreigners stated that the attacks were entirely unprovoked. The Chinese will appear in the First Special District Court this morning, charged with assaulting a policeman.

Sgt. Gill was treated at the Police Hospital for contusions of the chin, chest and forearm.—(N.C.D.N.)

SUSPENDED SENTENCES PASSED

Shanghai, May 26.

Only suspended sentences were passed by the First Special District Court yesterday upon Shu Jiang, unemployed, and Tsoong Tse-kong, a youth of the student type, who were charged with assault on Sgt. H. F. Gill of the S. M. Police at the intersection of Nanking and Thibet Roads at 7.20 p.m. last Saturday when the foreign officer was directing traffic at the busy crossing where crowds from two large theatres in the neighbourhood were converging.

The first accused was fined $50 and the second was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, on the charge of causing bodily injuries, but sentences on both were suspended for two years. The Judge, however, ordered the first to be detained and the second to furnish $500 security during the period of appeal.

The trouble started when one of the accused tried to climb over the traffic ropes at the corner of Nanking and Thibet Roads. Sgt. Gill was treated at the Police Hospital for contusions of chin, chest and forearm.—(N.C.D.N.)

NAVY'S AIR ARM

War-Time Danger Of Dual Control

London, May 4.

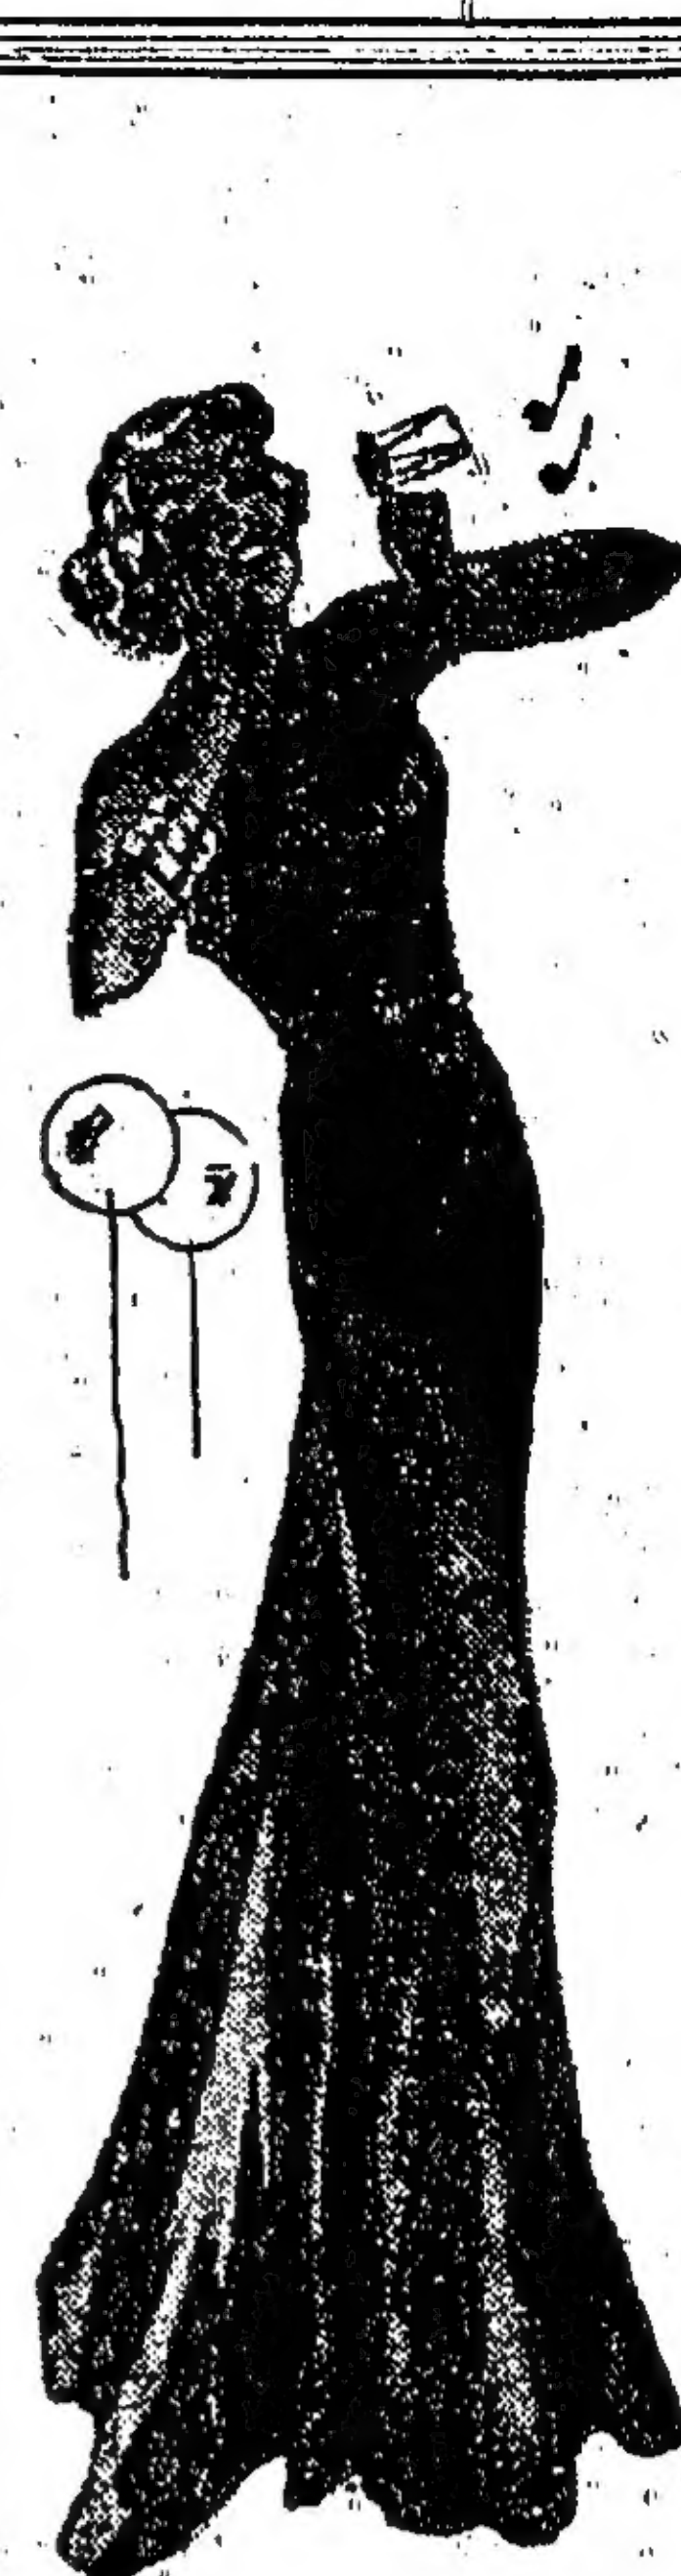

Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes discusses in the May issue of "The Navy" dual control of the Fleet Air Arm, by the Admiralty and the Air Ministry. The latter controls all aircraft and personnel other than those actually embarked in ships, the Navy providing 71 per cent of pilots and observers for the Fleet.

He declares that dual control has not only grievously hampered efficiency and development, but it would be disastrous if war broke out under existing conditions. He adds:

"I think the Government would be well advised to set up an impartial Committee—free from political and service bias—to inquire into this and other controversial Naval questions.

"The evidence of those who are responsible for dual control of Naval aviation, but who bear no responsibility for Naval efficiency or the exercise of Sea Power could then be taken and weighed, against the evidence of the Government's Naval advisers, who are thoroughly dissatisfied with the hampering conditions under which they have been forced to work.

FITNESS AND GAMES

In his address recently to the Congress of Physical Medicine Lord Dawson drew a sharp distinction between physical education and the playing of games. In effect he invited his audience to look upon games as a product of physical education rather than as a form of it, thus reverting to Classical ideas. That his attitude is justified none who had experience of the physical examination of recruits during the War will dispute. Many of these recruits were unfit to play strenuous games and could not therefore have derived any advantage from playing them. But even quite short courses of physical education effected changes which made the playing of strenuous games a delight. The weedy-looking young man, as Lord Dawson said, was transformed literally out of recognition. The moral, of course, is that education must precede recreation. It is the player who makes the team in the first instance; the influence of the team on the player comes afterwards, and cannot come at all if the player is unfit to react to it. This is so obvious in the light of recent experience, that it must be accounted a matter of surprise that policies based upon a contrary idea have been so widely adopted. Many delicate or physically weak children are seriously harmed by games. These children too often lose the power to play and so are deprived of great benefit. It is a sad reflection that the injury inflicted upon them might easily have been prevented.

What can be done by physical training will be shown to the members of the Congress by means both of actual demonstrations and of cinematograph films. The discussion is likely to serve as a link between physical education and the movement to provide playing-fields. Clear thinking is as necessary here as in the case of organized games. There can be little doubt, for example, that the poor physical condition of many of the recruits in the War period was due to lack of suitable places in which to play the haphazard but vitally important games of childhood. Such games cannot properly be played in crowded streets, if only because play in these circumstances is attended by great danger to life or limb. The task of the Army instructor was rendered doubly difficult by reason of the fact that he had to begin at the very beginning. His pupils had not possessed playing fields; they had not acquired in childhood the enthusiasm which leads a boy to seek training and which enables him to obtain the greatest advantage from it. The fact that enthusiasm was aroused and that fitness was recaptured in the great majority of instances is proof that in more favourable circumstances national health could be enormously benefited. There is urgent need for playing-fields for all children. There is urgent need for physical training in connection with these playing-fields. Thus, and only thus, can the moral and spiritual values which the team bestows be realized. Lord Dawson closed his address by pointing out that the power of modern medical science to preserve the unfit had placed a new burden on the community. The only way, as he said, in which this burden can be lightened is to reduce unfitness to its lowest level by attacking it in childhood. The so-called "White Magic" of orthopaedic surgery is the curative side of this work; physical training is the preventive side. And in this connection training includes nutrition of body and mind. Just as it

Another example showing the great interest taken in the forthcoming Olympic Games in Berlin is indicated in the fact that the American Cunard-White Star Line has just decided to run no fewer than 20 tourist ships for visitors. Those who decide to join one of these tours will be well looked after for the shipping company has engaged a number of well-known sport trainers to accompany the passengers to Berlin, where they are to act as guides.

FRENCH CONTINGENT

Paris, May 28.
The Council of the French Olympic Committee recently held a sitting under the chairmanship of M. France has actually 354 representatives to send, but it was decided to compete only in those sports where France was likely to give a worthy display.

ANTI-JAPANESE
FEELING

Tientsin Demonstration

Tientsin, May 28.
The demonstration of students and workers continued all day long. Students harangued the crowds and placarded the city with anti-Japanese posters.

So far the police have not taken any action in the matter. The Japanese military authorities have demanded suppressive measures. A Japanese military spokesman alleged that the demonstrators have been instigated by communists who are aiming to wreck the Japanese interests in North China.—Reuter.

TENSE MOMENTS

Tientsin, May 28.
There were tense moments when the Japanese threatened to occupy the grounds of Nankai University where students at a mass meeting made a resolution calling a three-day strike and urging resistance to invasion. Chinese militia men went to the scene from all over the city and the students dispersed peacefully.—Reuter.

(Earlier cable appears on page 1).

It is futile to expect unfit persons to play strenuous games, so it is absurd to expect a high degree of efficiency from an under-nourished body.

HONG KONG THE IDEAL
COLONY?What About The Birth Rate?

In my article last week I discussed the lack of constructive thought in Hong Kong; and the fact that "The Man in the Street" takes little interest in affairs of policy because he is not adequately represented in Government, and therefore has insufficient responsibility for the good of the colony in general.

I touched on the ominous signs of falling birth rate amongst people in better circumstances, whilst the birth rate amongst the poor and unhealthy citizens is far too high.

BABIES A LUXURY

The so-called "upper classes"—one hates to differentiate between the rich and the poor in so arbitrary a manner, but it is necessary in this case to distinguish between the social strata with which we are dealing—the upper classes, of all races represented in Hong Kong, particularly those of Western origin are tending to have smaller and smaller families.

Over and over again one's friends tell one that "times being so hard they cannot afford to have as many children as they would like." And because the limitation of the family according to circumstances is taken for granted amongst educated people who have the benefit of some knowledge of eugenics, children—or at any rate more than one or two in a family—are a luxury only to be indulged in by the fortunate few.

From the point of view of the future of the race this is a tragedy—going hand in hand, as it does with the ominously high birth rate amongst the unfit and impoverished circumstances.

SOME REMEDIES

First, what can be done to encourage the best type of healthy citizen to breed a fine new generation?

In different countries of the world we find various methods by which the healthy citizen is helped to rear his family. There are schemes of dowries for brides on marriage, insurance policies to cover education, etc. There are income tax rebates, and even actual sums of money down as a recompense for large families.

But still these schemes do not seem to offer enough assistance to the educated parents of small means. The obvious reason for this is that the said educated parents have to do so much to help support the burden of millions of diseased illiterates who are nothing but a drag on civilization.

In some countries, notably Germany, enormous numbers of the unfit have, I believe, been sterilized, which is one method of stopping them from contaminating the race, but in most countries sterilization must be voluntary.

BIRTH CONTROL AND INFANT WELFARE

Because modern science has progressed with such leaps and bounds recently, more and more diseased children who in the last generation would have died in infancy are now being kept alive to add to the general confusion.

Of course, humanly speaking, we cannot let them die for lack of treatment. But infant welfare, although so admirable in itself, can actually do more harm than good to the race, if it does not go hand in hand with the teaching of proper methods of birth control.

CONDITIONS IN HONG KONG

To bring all this nearer home. What is being done in Hong Kong to encourage suitable parents to have families; and to discourage, or better still forcibly prevent the unfit from assisting in the ultimate ruin of their race by breeding diseased children?

As far as I can see very little is being done—particularly in the case of those in the latter category.

Because of the advance of science, and its application in Hong Kong vast numbers of the unfit are being kept alive when they would otherwise have died in infancy.

Charitable organizations, as well as Government departments, are doing what is undoubtedly splendid work in furthering the knowledge of infant welfare and general hygiene, as well as supporting poor families who have no means of sustenance.

NEED FOR EUGENICS

But why not teach eugenics thoroughly? The poorer class of Chinese are trusting western methods more and more because they see the results. They know that if they take their sick child to the hospital it will in all probability be cured, and they are learning that our ideas for the care of babies is highly satisfactory. Yet although we have the confidence of these people to so great an extent we withhold from them what they need more than anything else, namely the methods for the proper spacing, and in some cases limitation of their families according to individual requirements.

SMALLER AND FITTER
FAMILIES

It is a mistaken idea that poor Chinese parents want such a vast family to support them in their old age. For one thing it is obvious that a number of children born at too close intervals have far less chance of surviving than a family of five spaced over a suitable number of years.

Of course there is a group of public spirited people of different races—although I think they are chiefly Chinese—who are working and hoping for better things in the future. This group needs all the co-operation and sympathy it can get in the terribly up hill work before it, and I would earnestly beg the public of Hong Kong, made up as it is of people of such varied race and creed, to do all in their power to help the poor to help themselves.

MR. CHOU LOU

Of EuropePOLITICAL VIEWS EXPRESSED

Mr. Chou Lou, Chancellor of the National Sun Yat-sen University and member of the standing committee of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee, left Hong Kong yesterday afternoon aboard the Lloyd Triestino liner Victoria for Europe.

The Chinese leader is accompanied by Professor Cheng Hung-hao of the College of Law of the University, who will study economic conditions in Europe.

The reason for Mr. Chou's European tour and his political views are expressed in the following statement issued by the Kuomintang leader just before his departure.

"I am going abroad to attend the International University Conference at Heidelberg, Germany on June 24-27 and the 55th anniversary of that University. After touring Europe and if time permits, I shall also attend the Olympic Games in Berlin and later proceed to Cheltenham, England, to take part in the New Education Fellowship Conference on July 31 to August 14.

"My original intention was to sail on May 22, aboard the liner Gneisenau, but owing to the death of Mr. Hu Han-min, I had to postpone my departure until to-day. I expect to be away for three months.

SAVING THE NATION

"As regards my political views, there are four points as expressed in my weekly memorial service address in Canton on May 4. They are as follows:—

(1) During the present national crisis, all parties and factions should give up their political platforms and should take part only in resisting Japanese aggressions.

(2) Every effort should be made to prevent an outbreak of civil war, so that undivided resources may be utilized to resist Japan.

(3) It is necessary to arouse the masses, so that the students, farmers, workers, merchants and soldiers will unite and consolidate for the purpose of prolonged and nation-wide resistance.

(4) It is also essential to ally with those powers, who treat us on a basis of equality, for a common struggle. Apart from our own part in resistance, all those who assist us in resisting Japan are considered as our friends.

I am determined in upholding these principles and strive to put them into effect so as to save the Chinese nation.

JAPAN CRITICISED AT GENEVA OPIUM MEETING

Subjects Engaged In Illicit Traffic

PENALTIES PERFECTLY RIDICULOUS

American Delegate Urges Immediate Action

Geneva, May 28. At the League of Nations Opium Committee meeting which reference was made to the narcotic situation in China, Mr. Fuller, the United States delegate, urged the "Japanese Government whose subjects are more widely and more closely connected than those of any other country with the traffic in China in morphine, heroin and cocaine to take steps without further delay to effectively punish the Japanese and Koreans who are responsible for the clandestine manufacture and illicit traffic which has thus brought the name of Japan into disrepute."

Mr. Fuller hoped that the vast supplies of opium within China will be cut down. Until this is done, he said, China will continue to be a narcotic menace to the world.

DISGRACEFUL STATE OF AFFAIRS

The American delegate referred to the "almost unbelievable conditions in East Hope, the disgraceful state of affairs in Tientsin and Peiping, the terrifying spread of drug addiction in Hopei and the countryside, and the conditions existing in Shanghai, for which Japanese and Korean traffickers were responsible, was eloquent testimony to the helplessness of the Japanese authorities in China limited by Japanese laws to penalties which are perfectly ridiculous. "This matter of penalties has been repeatedly brought to the attention of the Japanese authorities by the Opium Committee for years. This has been an open scandal year after year and the Committee has drawn attention to the perfectly ridiculous state of affairs."

"It is certainly most unfortunate that no effective action has yet been taken. Not only China but Japan and all Japanese possessions are a haven of refuge and unsurpassed headquarters for callous Japanese and Koreans successfully and blithely poisoning their fellow-men for gain. "This failure to discipline and punish these poisoners, is not only an act of unkindness to the Chinese but also to the North American continent, Canada and Mexico."

"Let us face the facts that where Japanese influence in the Far East advances the drug traffic goes with it. The maximum penalty is a few weeks' rest in jail and a fine equal to the profits of one poor day's business of the petty trafficker."

CHINESE REQUEST

Geneva, May 28. Mr. Victor Hoo, replying to Mr. Fuller, wished that if the U.S. Government had such information as Mr. Fuller divulged, it communicate same to the Chinese Government.

Mr. Hoo thanked all Governments associating themselves with his appeal to Japan to co-operate and declared that the Chinese Government will do everything in its power to stamp out abuses.

MR. HOO'S STATEMENT

Geneva, May 27. Ninety-seven persons were sentenced to death and shot in China, during 1935, for violation of the laws prohibiting trading and consumption of manufactured drugs, stated Mr. Victor Hoo, China's representative at the meeting of the League of Nations Opium Committee this afternoon.

Discussing the narcotic situation in China, Mr. Hoo outlined the measures enforced by the Central Political Committee of the Kuomintang.

"The life of the nation depends upon the struggle against drugs," he declared, "which we must fight to the bitter end."

He was informed, he said, that the Draconian methods adopted had restricted the activities of clandestine factories and traffickers in manufactured narcotics wherever the problem was not complicated by factors outside the control of the Chinese authorities. The biggest difficulty at present, which was insoluble without the collaboration of other countries, was the action of certain foreigners who took advantage of their privileged position to indulge in a trade in drugs on a vast scale paralyzing as far as manufactured narcotics were concerned, the efforts of the Chinese measures. The situation was still very grave, said Mr. Hoo, in certain parts of China, especially in North China.

OPIUM SHOPS

The British Assessor on the Committee, Mr. Lyall, stated that the Changli district of the demilitarized zone had 131 opium shops. The Governor had attempted to deal with this situation, but as a majority of the shops were run by Japanese he was removed for being anti-Japanese.

He said most of the 323 opium dens in Amoy and 319 in Poochow were run by Japanese subjects, nearly all of them Formosans. "If the Chinese people become convinced that Japan is chiefly blameworthy for the lives wrecked by heroin, a hatred may be engendered, which will last for generations," he said.

Mr. Lyall recalled that the Opium War of 1839 had embittered Anglo-Chinese relations for nearly a century. He appealed to Japan not to make the same mistake as did the British.

The Japanese delegate to the Committee, Mr. Hotta, stated that the Japanese authorities were not well-informed on the subject. He added that the Japanese Government would make every effort to clear up the situation.

FRENCH STRIKE CONTINUES

Communist Agitation Suspected

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Paris, May 28. The strike of the French metal workers still continues. Striking workers of Lavallette Motor Works at Rouen and of New Port Astra Aeroplane Factory at Issy are still awaiting in the factory buildings, of which they took possession, the outcome of the negotiations now going on between the employers and the workers committee.

The workers of numerous small factories in Paris and the provinces likewise joined the strikers. It is believed in employers' circles that the whole strike constitutes an organized attempt to realise certain points of the programme of the Popular Front, incited by Communists, such as the 40-hour week, paid holidays, recognition of the workers' representatives in the works without waiting for legislative procedure.

STAY-IN METHODS

Paris, May 28. Government circles are most concerned over the extension of the strike in the engineering works around Paris and other parts of France, especially the evolution of the stay-in strike, which is a new phenomenon in France.

A spectacular symptom of this is the stream of workmen's wives and daughters, staggering to the factories under loads of clothing, bedding and provisions.

The stay-in tactics are designed to prevent employers engaging black-leg labour.

The strikers are encouraged to resist by the fact that 2,000 workers in the Hotchkiss works at Lavallette obtained satisfaction of their demands.

The larger works at present involved include the Neuport Aeroplane Works, the Salmson Aviation Factory, the Boulogne-sur-Seine Renault plant and the Hispano-Suiza factory.

DEVALUATION OF FRANC

To Come Sooner Or Later?

LEON BLUM'S
CHOICE

London, May 28. Orderly yet "moderately heavy" selling of French francs from the continent was a feature of the foreign exchanges this morning, necessitating intermittent intervention from British Control for the first time since May 23.

In view of the fact that articles pointing out the advantages of devaluation have recently appeared in certain organs, the French press so far is against devaluationist ideas. The opinion is gaining ground that even the most rabid anti-devaluationists are now becoming reconciled to what appears to be the inevitable, and the uppermost question is—how soon?

Some quarters believed that shortly after taking office, M. Leon Blum will admit that the choice lies between abrogation of the Laval cuts and undertaking public works on one hand and defence of the franc on the other, in which event devaluation would appear to be the only logical course.

BRITISH NAVY INTENTION

American Attitude On Excess Tonnage

Washington, May 28.

The attitude of the Navy Department to the British note indicating intention to retain 40,000 tons of excess destroyer tonnage to be scrapped at the end of 1936 under the London Treaty is understood to be that the escalator clause would safeguard the United States' right to parallel expansion given in the category if she so desires.

Admiral Standley, acting Secretary of the Navy, commenting on the note, told journalists that if Britain wishes to retain excess destroyer tonnage she would have to evoke the escalator clause.

Admiral Standley's views are expected to form the basis of the Navy Department's recommendations to the State Department regarding the American attitude to the British proposal.

SANCTIONS MAY BE ABOLISHED

Decision At Next Council Meeting

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Paris, May 28. League circles in Geneva envisaged the possibility of abolitions of sanctions on June 15 when the League Council assembles, according to "Le Jour's" Geneva correspondent. It all depends, so the correspondent says, on whether M. Vasconcelles will decide to convene the Committee of Eighteen on the same date since the Council alone is not competent to raise the sanctions.

A resolution in favour of abolishing the sanctions has already been tabled by the Chilean delegate, and the correspondent asserts that this resolution is strongly supported by the Swiss delegate Motta.

League circles opine that Italy's reappearance on the European political stage will depend upon the decision reached on the day in question.

ENGLAND WIN THE WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

ALL OTHER COUNTRIES BEATEN BY SMASHING MARGINS

Southport, May 14. England won the women's international golf championship which was concluded on the Southport and Ainsdale course to-day. England needed to win only one of the nine games against Ireland to-day having scored two victories yesterday against one each by Ireland and Wales and none by Scotland. England eventually beat Ireland to-day by eight matches to one. The final scores were England three victories and Scotland, Ireland and Wales one each.

A last-minute change in the England team was made to-day. Miss P. Barton arrived at the course unable to move her head freely. She had a chill in the muscles of her neck.

Therefore Mrs. Marjorie Garon played Mrs. J. E. Walker, of Ireland, all the following members of the English team "moved up," and Miss G. Craddock-Hartopp, the first reserve, was brought into the side.

IRRESISTIBLE MISS MORGAN

Miss W. Morgan, British Champion, made an English victory certain when she beat Miss D. Ferguson, Irish Champion, by 7 and 5. Miss Morgan seemed to be inspired by the ideal conditions. She began in such great form that the Irish Champion lost three of the first five holes without playing badly. At the third Miss Morgan drove so far that an easy iron shot to the green gave her a "birdie" three and a lead of two. Miss Morgan became three up with another "birdie" three at the fifth, where a perfect iron shot to the hidden bowl-shaped green was followed by a five yards putt. Miss Morgan, pursuing her unhurried progress, won with a minimum of opposition from Miss Ferguson, who seemed to be overawed by her opponent's superior power from the tee and greater accuracy in iron shots.

Miss Morgan's win made England safe from defeat and a few minutes later Miss D. Fishwick walked off the thirteenth green—victor, over Miss P. Sherlock to make the English triumph clear.

MISS FISHWICK IN FORM

Miss Fishwick's return to form delighted her caddy Maidment, who carries Alfred Padgham's clubs in important tournaments and hopes to bring off a Southport double by piloting Miss Fishwick to victory in the championship. Maidment is the best artisan player at Fulwell (Middlesex) and is no stranger to a card of 70. Miss Fishwick, who won the British Championship in 1932 at Formby, was out in 36 to-day and only two over fours for the thirteen holes played against Miss Sherlock, who did not win a hole.

England's victory over Ireland by eight games to one was precisely the margin by which they had beaten both Scotland and Wales yesterday. The only Irish winner was Mrs. J. B. Walker who was the most successful member of the British team that toured Australia and New Zealand last winter, but even this brilliant Irishwoman had to go to the 19th hole to beat Mrs. Marjorie Garon the English champion, and nothing worse than a two Kho now meets the Swiss Davis Cup exponent, E. Maneff, and critics are interested to see how his smooth game stands up against the forceful stroking of Maneff.

In winning so easily to-day Kho confirmed the favourable impression he created when he beat Lesueur. He has completely recovered the form which made him Chinese champion, and against Murray he maintained a beautiful length, seldom advancing to the net, yet always using good judgment.

at this short hole could give Mrs. Walker the victory.

Scotland beat Wales by 7 to 2 to bring about a triple tie among Scotland, Ireland and Wales for second place. The Scots played so brilliantly that they must have regretted they could not have produced that form against Ireland yesterday. Mrs. J. B. Watson, who won by 8 and 7 against Mrs. Edwards, had a score of only 35 for the first nine holes and Miss Montgomery, a 5 and 5 victor over Miss Barron, was out in 36.

EXTENSION OF CLUB HOUSE APPROVED

FOOTBALL CLUB'S EXPANSION

Plans for the extension of the Hong Kong Football Club's pavilion, were approved by the members when they met yesterday at an Extraordinary General meeting convened for that special purpose. The new plans include an extended wing for the accommodation of the Home team and thus evade the present congestion in the dressing room, the erection of a new ladies' room and the extension of the bar.

Mr. H. R. Forsyth was in the Chair supported by Mr. L. G. Robertson, Dr. G. R. Black, Dr. J. H. McElroy and Mr. B. I. Bickford (Hon. Secretary).

Putting the motion before the meeting Mr. Forsyth said that the matter had long been the subject of discussion and the committee now thought that it was desirable to carry out the plans. The Committee now looked towards the members for their ratification and backing.

The present Club house had cost $17,800 when it was built in 1928 and it now stands at about $11,300.

The Bowling green was added at a cost of $6,000 and this was done through the facilities of their bankers. The treasurer had estimated that at the end of July the Club should have a Bank balance of some what about $3,000 or $4,000. The cost of the extension was estimated at $5,000, and as the building entails extras, it was necessary to have an extra $2,000.

The plans provide more room for the Home team and avoids the present congestion. It also entails knocking down the present Ladies' room and removing it to the other end of the building. The Bar would be extended back a further five feet and thus give the members more "elbow room."

With the assistance of the members by paying their subscriptions on demand they would thus save a certain amount of interest which entail on borrowed capital.

The resolution was put to the meeting and was carried unanimously.

ANITA LIZANA KEEPS HER TITLE

Miss Hardwick's Plucky Fight

London, May 11. Senorita Lizana retained her singles title at Hurlingham on Saturday, when she beat Miss Hardwick 10-8, 6-2 in the final. J. S. Olliff won the men's event for the second time by defeating L. Shaff 6-2, 6-3.

The large gallery saw an interesting match in the women's final. In grace of movement and stroke-production there was nothing between Senorita Lizana and Miss Hardwick. The result depended on the greater steadiness of the Chilean.

She was able to "pick up" with greater ease in the deep corners, made fewer errors in service and showed greater confidence at the net, though she never went there for preference.

The Chilean champion, daughter of the Santiago lawn tennis professional, has watched the game ever since she can remember. She was born and bred, as it were, on the court. Her play shows that naturalness of touch which it is not easy to acquire.

Her racket-swing was more spontaneous than Miss Hardwick's. The latter's swing was more elaborate; she had to think more about it.

MISS HARDWICK'S MISTAKES

Miss Hardwick began confidently. She led 2-1 on her service, winning the third game to love. At first the Senorita did not quite know how to take the high-bounding delivery; it seemed to bound above her head. But her mistiming was only temporary. Mistakes came, from Miss Hardwick. She netted several backhand drives and Senorita Lizana was soon leading 5-2.

The crisis brought the best from the English girl. She saved a set point in the eighth game. She scored with a fine cross drive from a teasing drop, and this unexpected coup caused Senorita Lizana to serve a double-fault.

Concentrating on every point, and winning several with a retaliatory drop-shot, Miss Hardwick, after being seconded by Dr. McElroy.

There being no further business the meeting was declared closed.

took the next three games to lead 6-5. Errors of timing, however, came in the twelfth game. The Senorita won it to love.

In spite of two double-faults, Miss Hardwick led again at 8-7. She caught the Chilean two or three times on the wrong foot by driving into the deep corners. Again her opponent squared with a love game on her service.

In the 17th game Miss Hardwick, over anxious, waited for the ball to bound at short range instead of volleying it. Senorita Lizana led 9-8. To her credit, she carried the set from 0-40 down in the next game.

SHAFF'S IMPROVEMENT

Miss Hardwick, no doubt dwelling on the past, did not play as well in the second set. The Senorita took three games to love out of eight. She reduced her pace, lifting her return. Miss Hardwick found the higher bound harder to control. The drop shot, too, cleverly used against a tiring opponent, balked her. She had played her best in the first set. She could not maintain it in the second.

The men's final was a contrast in styles. Olliff had that art which conceals art, the minimum of effort producing the most effect. Shaff, on the other hand, appeared to put all he knew into every stroke. The result was sometimes effective, more often not.

Shaff discovered his best shots returned into a part of the court in which he least expected them. Olliff had his careless moments in the second set, but he could always gain a point when he needed one. He took the last two games to love.

There was a distinct improvement in Shaff's game. If he can use less energy in the production of each shot he must go further.

Reddall and Findlay did well to win the men's doubles, defeating Nicholls and Williams in the final after the latter pair had gained a narrow victory over Spence and Olliff in the semi-final. Miss Harvey won two doubles events. Paired with Miss Hardwick she did not lose a game against Miss Noel and Senorita Lizana. Miss Noel's eye was out and the Senorita has much to learn in the doubles game.

MINESWEEPERS RETURN HOME

The 1st Minesweeping Flotilla returns to its home ports to-day after several months' service in the Eastern Mediterranean, under the command of Captain V. A. C. Crutchley, V.C., D.S.O. The flotilla includes eight minesweepers, two of which, the Selkirk and Tiverton, arrived at Devonport on April 30 after calling at Vigo. The main body now returning consists of the Halcyon (senior officer's ship), Harrier, Hussar, Skipjack, Speedwell, and Dunoon. The flotilla arrived at Alexandria on September 17 from England. Its work there has now been taken over by the minesweeping trawlers recently purchased and fitted out on the East Coast of England.

H.M.S. HEBE

The keel has been laid without ceremony at Devonport Dockyard of the minesweeping sloop Hebe, one of the two of the 1935 programme allotted to this yard, the other being the Sharpshooter. About £138,000 will be spent on the two vessels during the current financial year. Devonport has two other sloops for general service in hand, the Aberdeen and Fleetwood, both of which have been launched.

REFIT OF THE TERN

The river gunboat Tern is to arrive at Shanghai on June 2 to refit. Lieutenant-Commander G. G. Pugh-Cook assumed command of the Tern in January last. She is one of the 13 gunboats in the Yangtze Flotilla.

CRIME SOCIETY SMOKERS OF WHITE DRUG

Heroin Associated With Underworld
Activities

REPLACING RED PILLS

Shanghai, May 23.

Heroin, whose wide use in China is engaging the attention of the League of Nations, is a favourite drug of Shanghai's criminal society and in many cases is directly associated with criminal activities here. Many a member of the city's underworld depends to a large extent on a powerful narcotic for the "courage" necessary to commit crime. The narcotic is the handmaiden of his unlawful enterprise.

While the White drug is commonly smoked by Shanghai criminals of all races and both sexes, it is rarely used in other strata of society here. The reason for its favour with the underworld is undoubtedly its cheapness—a small packet can be purchased for only 20 cents—and the low price again is the result of a surplus of the drug on the Shanghai market. In addition it is a very powerful narcotic: it is roughly eight times as strong as morphine. Most of the former smokers of so-called red pills in Shanghai have now changed to heroin—it suits their pocket-book and their vicious craving better than any other drug. Opium is still the favourite of the more well-to-do classes.

Of the persons arrested in Shanghai as heroin addicts approximately 50 per cent. have criminal records outside the narcotic field. Still others are undoubtedly associated with the underworld although they may not have been arrested before. Prostitution and heroin addiction commonly go hand in hand.

RETAILING OF DRUG

The retailing of the drug is well organized and the places of distribution are many. A review of the arrests made since the traffic assumed large proportions shows that a considerable proportion of the retailers are Koreans and Japanese. The local Japanese press makes frequent reference to the cases. In dealing with offenders the courts impose widely differing penalties. Chinese connected with the traffic are severely punished and even addicts are given long terms by the Chinese courts.

Whereas the cocaine habit can be broken off easily, heroin addiction is so destructive to the nervous system that a cure is not possible at present, at least no effective, genuine cure. The drug destroys the user's will-power; he deteriorates both mentally and morally. If he cannot obtain the narcotic he is plunged into deep mental distress and will do almost anything to satisfy his craving. Because of the vicious associations through which he acquires the habit his case does not usually come to the attention of medical authorities until he either becomes seriously ill or tangles with the law. And then there is generally little hope of rehabilitation.

The physical appearance of the heroin addict is usually more characteristic than that of other narcotic victims: emaciation, sallow skin, extreme weakness, and a blank facial expression.

Owing to their social distribution—few are outside the criminal and pauper class—it is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the number of heroin addicts in Shanghai but it is admitted that they are legion, and that the traffic in the drug is widespread, lucrative and difficult to eradicate. —(N.C.D.N.)

ROBBER SHOT DOWN BY WOUNDED MAN

Brave Chinese
Constable Challenges
Gang

BULLETS AGAIN FLY IN POOTOO RD. DISTRICT

Shanghai, May 18.

Police of the Pootoo Road Station had their second encounter with armed robbers in sixteen hours at noon yesterday and an exchange of shots resulted. In the serious wounding of both a Chinese constable and a robber. The robber was arrested, but his accomplices escaped.

A gang of six Chinese, four of whom were seen to carry pistols, entered a Chinese house at 1308 Robinson Road at 11.15 a.m., herded the occupants together and then started to ransack the rooms for valuables. They stayed in the house until nearly 12 o'clock, when they left with a large amount of money and jewellery, the total value of the loot being over $1,000.

As they walked away, however, they were followed by one of the tenants who called C.P.C. 1314, attached to Pootoo Road Station. The policeman challenged the fleeing men and they opened fire on him. Although seriously wounded, C.P.C. 1314 returned fire and succeeded in bringing down one of the robbers. The others escaped.

Both the wounded men were taken to the Police Hospital and treated for gunshot wounds in the body.

WOUNDED MAN ESCAPES

On Sunday evening a police party led by Sgt. J. W. M. Dickson challenged four suspects in an ill-lit street of Mapai Road in the rain and shot it out with them, the suspects starting fire. Two of the men were arrested and a quantity of loot was seized—a silver watch and $20 which had been stolen earlier in the evening in Ferry Road. One of the men was wounded and he was one of the two who escaped.

A third shooting was reported yesterday morning near the intersection of Ward and Paoing Roads. A Chinese walking in Lane 328, Ward Road, was wounded in the shoulder and chest by one of two men who had robbed him. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in a Fire Brigade ambulance. The robbers escaped. —(N.C.D.N.)

EXECUTION OF DR. RUXTON

Scenes Outside
The Gaol

MRS. VAN DER ELST CHARGED

London, May 13.

Extraordinary scenes were witnessed outside Strangeways Gaol, Manchester, yesterday at the execution of Dr. Buck Ruxton for the murder of his wife.

Mrs. Van der Elst, the leader of a movement for the abolition of capital punishment, later appeared at Manchester police-court.

She was charged with behaving in a manner whereby a breach of the peace might have been occasioned, wilful obstruction, and driving in a manner likely to endanger life and limb.

She was granted a remand until to-day week on her own bail of £20.

INQUEST PROTEST

At the inquest on Ruxton, on whom the verdict was that he died as a result of judicial hanging, a juror stated that he thought Mrs. Van der Elst could have put her money to better use.

The coroner (Mr. R. Stuart Rogers): "What money she has spent in this city in propaganda she could have put down for the benefit of Ruxton's innocent children."

The jury expressed condemnation of what they described as "her self-advertising propaganda."

Driving a large car, Mrs. Van der Elst arrived outside Strangeways Gaol at about eight o'clock, followed by two loud-speaker vans. She drove to within 70 yards of the prison when the vehicles were stopped by the police.

Mrs. Van der Elst sat at the driving wheel for about 10 minutes

AMATEUR GOLF Walker Cup Players Eliminated

St. Andrew's, May 27.

A strong northerly wind upset many players in the British Amateur Golf Championship. Cyril Tolley, holder in 1920 and 1929, and Jim Ferrier (Australia), the ex-Shanghai boy who is now favourite for the title, both being taken to the 19th in their Third Round encounters.

Tolley beat S. B. Roberts, the former Welsh champion, while Ferrier eliminated K. V. Braddon (Buckinghamshire), after being actually three down at one period. Both, however, easily won their Fourth Round matches.

Outstanding defeats in the Third Round included those of Eric Fiddian, Rex Hartley and Tony Torrance, all of whom are Walker Cup players.

The former English champion T. A. Bourn, who won the British title at Westward Ho in 1935, beat Robert Harris in the Fourth Round, but Jack McLean, Walker Cup player, was surprisingly beaten by Robert Sweeney, the Oxford University player, at the 20th.

Alec Hill (Sandy Lodge) beat D. R. Twiddle, the British Walker Cup captain, by 4 and 3, while Roger Wethered, Hector Thomson, Arana, the Spanish champion, and Eustace Story were all successful. Story beating Leonard Crawley, the Essex cricketer, by one up.

Thomson beat a fellow Scot in Mitchell by 3 and 2 after both had gone out in 32 to equal Bobby Jones's record. Thomson has now done 14 under fours for three rounds. —Reuter.

BRITISH TRADE IN NORTH CHINA

THE SMUGGLING MENACE

London, May 12.

Mr. Chorlton (C.-Bury) asked the Foreign Secretary whether he could yet say what steps are to be taken to safeguard British trade in North-China, in view of the extensive smuggling of Japanese goods from Dairen into China through the autonomous area of East Hopei, and what was being done to check the smuggling.

Mr. Baldwin, who replied, said that the British Government were at present in active correspondence with the Japanese Government in regard to this question with the view of protecting British interests, and representations were being made by our Ambassador in Tokio. He could not say more at the present stage.

Mr. Chorlton asked whether the Minister would draw the attention of the Japanese and Chinese Governments to the serious encouragement to smuggling arising from the fact that under the terms of the Tangku truce not more than two Chinese revenue cutters were permitted to approach within three miles of the coast, to the detriment of the Chinese customs on which British and other foreign loans were secured.

Mr. Baldwin said he was not aware of the restriction, but the difficulties experienced by the Chinese authorities in combating smuggling activities had been brought to the notice of the Japanese Government by our Ambassador in Tokio.

retorting to the jeers and hooting of a large crowd.

HECKLING CROWD

When she attempted to speak a woman shouted: "How would you like your daughter cut up?" and a man, referring to her large car, shouted: "Pawn it, and give it to the poor."

For a moment she came out of her car to talk to a police official, and she was heard to say: "It's a terrible thing for civilization—but before she could end her sentence there was a loud shout of: "Aw! Get out!"

Girls and women were prominent in the demonstration against her.

When she was driving away from the prison after the execution the crowd surged round her car to such an extent that the police had to link arms and form human barriers across the street every few yards. On one occasion they were obliged to draw their batons.

After the car had travelled about a quarter of a mile it was stopped by the police. An officer took charge of the wheel and drove Mrs. Van der Elst to Albert-street police station.

DUCE ADMIRER IN BERLIN

Italy's "Right" To Colonies

Berlin, May 11.

Admiration for Italy is the keynote of to-day's German comment. It is tacitly assumed that Signor Mussolini will in the end justify the accomplished fact with which he has confronted the world by successfully maintaining his hold on Abyssinia.

The "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" adopts intentionally or otherwise a line of argument which could equally well be used to justify action of a similar character in the future by some other Power than Italy. It says:

"Intoxicated with victory, her Allies failed to pay Italy the price for her armed assistance during the Great War. England annexed after the war 770,000 square miles of territory and 6,000,000 inhabitants in Africa.

"France annexed more than 320,000 square miles and 2,500,000 inhabitants. Only after many years was Italy accorded 33,500 square miles in Jubaland—where Italian Somaliland adjoins Kenya—with 100,000 inhabitants, together with a slight frontier adjustment in southern Libya.

"GOD OF STATUS QUO"

"The 'Haves' made a god of the status quo, sacrificing at its altar both commonsense and consideration for the vital necessities of the 'Have nots'."

"It is this denial of rights which was invoked by Italy as a justification for her independent action, the 'ruthlessness' of which was thereupon denounced by the very nations which had denied the rights of others. Now England is willing to 'liquidate' matters, while France is using forcible language. No country, however, can wipe out the past; merely because it has changed its Government.

"Who can fail to understand the pride of the Italian people that it has succeeded as a result of hard Fascist discipline in accomplishing a feat of which the world formerly would never have believed it capable. We in Germany must recognize this feat all the more freely in that we have always preserved neutrality in a quarrel which not did concern us."

Earlier in the article it is remarked sarcastically that "now that Sanctions have proved to be useless they are to be allowed to continue."

The heart of a good cocktail.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of 'Bisurated' Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

ANIMATED SCENES

At Southampton

GIANT LINER'S DEPARTURE

London, May 27.
Crowds estimated at a quarter of a million thronged Southampton docks, the shores of Southampton water and the heights of Isle of Wight and packed the decks of every available steamer and motor boat, and aeroplanes flew overhead as the liner Queen Mary cast off and moved slowly from her berth at 3.32 hours GMT. The manoeuvre was carried out perfectly and in less than a quarter of an hour. Then the great vessel dwarfing all craft, she passed, gathered her way and moved rapidly towards the sea. She was dressed over all and before she left Blue Peter was run at her foremost masthead to join double house flag of Cunard White Star Company flying at her aftermast.

Many busy hours preceded the liner's departure and every incident from the muster of the entire crew of 1,100 and boat drill with launching of all 24 unsinkable motor lifeboats to the arrival of many distinguished passengers and their friends was cheered by the quayside sightseers.

In an interview the liner's Captain, Sir Edgar Britten who received messages to-day from well wishers all over world said he was sure the Queen Mary would be a great success and spoke of her as a link of goodwill between the two great English speaking peoples.

The Captain was not to be drawn on the question of record breaking. He said the ship had a schedule and he thought if they kept to it they would not break record.

Great crowds gathered this evening at Cherbourg to welcome the Queen Mary on her first call—British Wireless.

TWO GREAT EVENTS

London, May 27.
Clear, sunny and dry weather favoured an afternoon, the leading events of which—the departure of the Cunard White Star liner on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic and race for the Derby Stakes at Epsom—drew vast crowds of sightseers and were followed with interest throughout the country and round the world.

Descriptions of the sailing of the Queen Mary and of the Derby were broadcast at home and on Empire transmissions. Two seconds after the Derby winner passed the post result had been transmitted by Cables and Wireless Limited to New York, Buenos Aires and Cape Town. It was known in Australia within six seconds—British Wireless.
